DAN FORNERO | not so old school

Dan Fornero is an LA-based freelance trumpet player who has toured the world with Woody Herman, Tom Jones, Brian Setzer Orchestra, Johnny Hallyday, Phil Collins and Neil Diamond, among others. He is currently a member of Gordon Goodwin's Big Phat Band and Bob Mintzer's west coast Big Band. Dan's 30+ film and television credits include Grammy Awards, Emmy Awards, Academy Awards, American Idol, The Voice, Dancing with the Stars and many more.

Dan's new album not so old school features LA's finest musicians and pays homage to the many styles of music that have influenced his sound. not so old school is a collection of original tunes (and one cover) from the R&B, Funk, Jazz and Rock genres.

"It's obvious from the get-go that Fornero has a penchant for the driving pulses and biting staccato funk of the styles of Tower of Power, Prince, Earth, Wind & Fire, Al Jarreau and—rest his Godfather Soul—James Brown... With a premier rhythm section that cuts loose below the screaming horns and the soul-oozing vocals, this contemporized effort is as good-or perhaps even better-than some of the aforementioned."

Nicholas F. Mondello, All About Jazz
